

OREGON HAD HEAVY SNOW

In a letter and clippings from Oregon City, Ore., papers, to his father, Charles Fandrich, Jr. of this city, Charles Fandrich, Jr. of Oregon City tells of the unusually heavy snows they have been experiencing in the western state. The clippings describe a twenty-six inch fall of snow which completely tied up traffic there. The change is described as an abrupt one from the accustomed rains in that country and while the temperature never went below 14 degrees above zero the residents of that city considered it very low. Train and electric car service was completely tied up for a day and night depending on cars for shipment of raw materials and for their products were threatened with a shutdown. Mr. Fandrich has in Oregon for several years past, having formerly made his home in this city. He is engineer in one of the paper mills there.

FOUND FEEBLE MINDED MAN

Officer Borg is not a man of a suspicious nature, but when a perfect stranger waves at him across the street, calls him over and treats him to candy, even if the man may be possessed with the spirit of Christmas giving, Officer Borg's suspicions are apt to be aroused. The fatal mistake of being too congenial with the west side officer last Saturday morning led to taking George Wagner, formerly of the home for the Feeble Minded at Chippewa Falls, into custody. Wagner was too effusive in his greetings, so the officer took him in tow, an investigation revealing the fact that he had escaped from the institution at Chippewa Falls last July, and had been working on a farm in Adams county since that time. An official of the home arrived in the city the same afternoon and took him back to the institution.

FINED NEKOOSA MEN AND ORDERED THEM FROM TOWN

Neal Crowns, Dan Brown and "Lumps" Brown, all residents of Nekoosa, appeared before Judge Pomalville on Friday answering a charge of drunkenness. After reviewing the case the judge made it $10 and costs for each and ordered them to leave the village of Nekoosa within 24 hours. The Brown brothers found it convenient to leave on the evening train and have departed for parts unknown. Crowns, however, remaining, and has been arrested on other charges. The men had been instrumental in causing a good deal of the trouble that has occurred down there, the court alleged, and it was decided that getting rid of them would be the best thing for everyone concerned. The charge the men were fined on was drunkenness, the lightest of several charges that could have been brought against them for the affair they were mixed up in. Other charges that were subject to their arrest were in leaving the city included resisting an officer, disturbing the peace and assault and battery. The men were charged with being at the bottom of some trouble which occurred there last week and which looked for all the world as if the disturbances which were common last summer when the strike first opened, were about to be revived. Their arrest had the desired effect and there has been practically no trouble there since.

ARPIN DREDGING CO. TAKES BIG CONTRACT

J. B. Arpin of the Arpin Dredging Co., closed a contract within the past week which involves $500,000 in dredging and road building in De Kalb county, Arkansas. The contract will keep two of the Arpin machines busy continuously during the next eighteen months and is one of the large contracts awarded in the south this year. Mr. Arpin states that work will be started there immediately.

The contract calls for considerable ditching for drainage purposes across the river from Crumville, Miss., where the Arpin company has been working on large dredging contracts in the past. The ditches are to be dug, the dirt thrown up on the bank, and the bank leveled off and made into a roadway. Some of the roadway will be surfaced with concrete while another portion will be of gravel surfacing.

According to Mr. Arpin, Leon and Paul Arpin will probably go to Arkansas to work on the contract there, while there will probably be several other Grand Rapids men who handle the Arpin machines locally on the Arkansas project. One of the machines which will be used has been on a Texas job and is being loaned down at the present time. The other machine will be a new one recently constructed.

In addition to the big contract in Arkansas Mr. Arpin has closed a deal for an additional $60,000 worth of dredging work at Greenville, the scene of his present work. This will include both public and private work.

There are not enough bidders to take care of the dredging work in the south this year, Mr. Arpin stated on Tuesday. He explained that there is a considerable shortage of machinery, and that owing to the shortage, contracts are not even being bid on.

DECORATED LOCAL VETERANS OF WAR

One hundred veterans of the World War, representing a fair portion of the Grand Rapids men who are entitled to the decoration, were at Dwyer's Theatre Tuesday evening when Rev. Wm. Redding awarded the bronze crosses to the men. The men were given the crosses by the people of Grand Rapids thru Mayor Briere and the city council. Others whose names are on the list for the award and who were either out of town or unable to be present will receive their medal by applying to the mayor or Clerk P. G. Gilkey at the city hall. Those out of the city will be forwarded the medal.

The presentation was accompanied by a fitting program, the mayor opening with a short address. Mr. Briere read the names of the men who were on the list of the award and the people of the city who were giving them. The mayor told the men to always remember that Grand Rapids claimed them as native sons, and that a hearty welcome was always awaiting them here.

Miss Horatia Karsch, rendering a vocal solo, and Mr. Charles Parker, rendering a clarinet solo, were both very heartily applauded. Rev. Redding told of the departure of the boys from Grand Rapids, their training and their departure for the front. He told of the desire of the people of this city to back them and of the kind feeling they had toward the soldiers. He then presented the medals, the men marching up in line to receive them.

Major F. S. Pomalville answered for the soldiers, telling of their appreciation for what the city had done for them, and telling them that it was the people at home who had made it possible to win the war.

ROOT-WOOD CO. TEACHER FOR JOURNAL TRIP ABROAD

The teachers of Wood County have organized during the past week to host Miss Ella Hassler, supervising teacher of the county, as the candidate for the Milwaukee Journal contest, which will send one teacher from each Congressional District in the state to Europe next summer.

The Journal has promised the teachers a fifty day trip over the battlefields of Europe and trip thru England and Scotland. The proposed journey is to start immediately after the close of the schools next spring. Two candidates are permitted to be chosen at the primary, which close Jan. 31st. The Wood County teachers have decided to put up only one candidate and have their backing more united.

Should Miss Hassler be selected from this Congressional District she would be able to tell the pupils of the different schools about her own white visiting the schools around the county next year.

JIM HOLLOWAY SAYS

Jim Holloway says: "That if you take a gallon jug, cork it up tight and put it in the bottom of a silo when you fill it up in the fall, that in the spring, when the silo is emptied, that the jug will be found to be full of pure alcohol. Now, what Jim wants to know, is how does the alcohol get into the jug? Personally, humiliating as it may seem, we are bound to admit that we do not know. To tell the truth, we don't know anything about silos, and we are not even sure that the alcohol is there. We have seen them standing in barnyards as we were driving thru the country, and once when we were out to Vesper Dave Woodruff showed us thru a silo factory, and told us how they fixed the silos, and bent the iron that they made the hoops out of and put the hinges on the doors. 'Nothing, but then he did not say anything about a corked jug and a gallon of alcohol, and he might have thought that we were not interested in that part of silo construction. But then, this is not so awfully strange. We have heard that there are places in Tennessee and Kentucky where you can take a dollar and a gallon jug and go out in the woods and by placing the dollar on a stump, putting the jug on top of the dollar, if you go away for about an hour, that when you return the dollar will be gone and the full of whiskey. Of course, whether it is not as strong as alcohol, but then, in this case it only takes an hour to produce a gallon of it, while by the silo method it takes several months. The silo method might be a right for a camel, but it is rather slow for a fast moving country like the United States. Still, it might be worth trying, at that. If it should work out all right there is no question but what it would cause a great boom in the silo business, and that many people who never had thought of having a silo on their premises would soon have their back yard properly ornamented with a number of these useful farm buildings. In the meantime we are resting on our oars and awaiting developments."

MET GRAND RAPIDS PEOPLE WHILE IN WESTERN STATES

Two Grand Rapids people, who had strayed far from their native city, gushed with surprise as they shook hands on one of the principal streets of Portland, Ore., one day recently. The local people who met so unexpectedly in the western city were Leland Johnson and George Forand, the former having been on a tour of Canada and of the western states, while the latter was on his way back with his family, having made the trip from here by auto. Mr. Forand stated that he had encountered very bad roads thru Montana and had found it necessary to ship the car at times, and was about to leave by boat from Portland for Los Angeles, California. He was very enthusiastic about the assistance he had received from the Elks lodge at Portland, who secured passage for him on the boat. He stated to Mr. Johnson that he would not be back here until the summer and had it not been for their assistance he would not have been able to make the trip.

When the trouble between the I. W. O. and the American Legion broke out in Contralla, Washington, Mr. Johnson went to Contralla, but arrived too late to be able to take part in the hunt for the murderers.

Following a six months journey to several foreign countries, a visit in Copenhagen, Denmark, Hamburg and Berlin, Germany, and many other foreign cities, Mrs. W. G. Schroedel returned the latter part of last week from a visit with her parents abroad. During her visit in the foreign countries Mrs. Schroedel found that food prices were actually higher in many of the larger cities and prices demanded were very high. This was not true alone in Germany, she stated, but in Denmark and other places as well.

Mrs. Schroedel left here last June to make the trip to Hadersleben, Germany, where her parents live. She secured her passport to Copenhagen, after considerable difficulty, and finally crossed the border into Germany after having a good deal of trouble getting the food and other necessities for the trip. ## RIGHT OF WAY DISPUTE BRINGS TWO INTO COURT

A dispute over the right of way in front of the Dornbach cigar factory on First street north last Saturday brought C. F. Rosenberg, proprietor of the Golden Eagle road house, and Frank Garber, local junk man, into Judge Pomalville's court.

The story the men tell is to the effect that Garber's car was standing in the road at that point, the deep snow on each side making the road impassable. Rosenberg came along in his car and attempted to pass, but the hubs of the cars became interlocked and he was unable to get by. Garber, it is stated, was asked to move his car to make room but did not want to do so as he was afraid it would break the wheel of the other car and leave him responsible. He told Rosenberg to get into the Garber machine and back it off. The exchange of words resulted in Rosenberg putting Garber into his machine by force, Garber claims, and attempting to force him to drive the machine.

Garber has issued a warrant for Rosenberg's arrest on a charge of assault. Before they were able to serve the warrant on Rosenberg the latter had issued a warrant for Garber, charging him with abusive language. Garber's case against Rosenberg was set for January 1st, while Rosenberg's case against Garber was set for the day following. Bonds for each was placed at $100 and furnished.

KILLED WHEN RIFLE SUDDENLY EXPLODED

William J. Metzger, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Metzger, Baker street, died Friday noon forty-five minutes after he had been accidentally shot by a thirty calibre rifle. Mr. Metzger was cleaning the gun a few minutes previous to that. It is thought that he had completed his work with the rifle and stood it in the corner of his bed room. While no one witnessed the accident it is supposed that the rifle slipped and the young man either sprang to catch it or it reached the floor or was stooping to pick it up from the floor, when it accidentally discharged, the bullet passing thru his body and lodging under the skin in his back. Mr. Metzger was twenty-four years of age at the time of the accident and had been attending the Stevens Point normal, being home to spend the holidays with his parents.

The gun which Mr. Metzger had been cleaning had been around the house for several years, and had not been touched for a period of about five years previous to Friday. William went down in the basement Friday morning to clean up the gun, preparatory to selling it. The gun is a thirty calibre sporting rifle, and while no one suspected that it was loaded, it is evident that one cartridge had become stuck in the magazine. When the rifle was cleaned the gun in the basement, but upon the advice of another member of the family had taken the gun to his bedroom where he completed the operation. He had tried the gun several times and from all appearances the cartridges had all been removed from the rifle.

A few minutes later his mother heard the discharge of the gun and heard her son fall, uttering a few words. He walked to the sitting room where he was found in an unconscious condition. Medical aid was immediately summoned but could do nothing, the young man passing away about three-quarters of an hour later without having regained consciousness.

William was one of the well known young men of the city, a hard and an ambitious worker, who was respected and liked by all who knew him. He had attended the public schools in this city, graduated from the Lincoln high school, and was making a university course in the state normal at Stevens Point. During the war he served over seas with the A. E. F. and had returned the past summer with an excellent record from his military unit. The shock of his death was a severe one to the community who sympathized with the family in their sorrow.

He is survived by his parents and two sisters and a brother, his siblings being Mrs. Alexander Woodworth of Madison, and Miss Hettie, of this city, and a brother, Herman, of Spencer.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the First Moravian church, Rev. C. A. Mollieke officiating. Burial was made in Forest Hill cemetery.

FARMERS' ACCOUNTS

As a rule, farmers do not keep book accounts. At the end of the year there is no record of the amount for labor, seed, implements, repairs, etc. The profits are guessed at, and the farmers are often far from the expectations.

The Wisconsin Bankers Association has prepared a farm account book which we are asked to sell to farmers for the sum of $1.00, which is the actual price the Association charges in Madison. After you have the book for one year you will refund the purchase price if you will bring the book in to us and show us that it has been properly kept during the year.

The book was prepared by Prof. O. J. Len of the University of Wisconsin, and should be in the hands of every farmer who desires to operate his farm on a businesslike basis. WOOD COUNTY BANKERS ASSOCIATION, composed of all the banks in Wood County, Wisconsin.

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

OREGON HAD HEAVY SNOW

In a letter and clippings from Oregon City, Ore., papers, to this city, Charles Randolph of this city, Clatsop County, Ore., tells of the unusually heavy snows they have been experiencing in the western state. The clippings describe a twenty-six inch fall of snow which completely tied up traffic in the city. The change is described as an abrupt one from the accustomed rains in that country and while the temperature never went below 14 degrees above zero the residents of that city considered it very low. Train and electric car service was completely tied up for a day and mill depending on cars for shipments of raw materials and for their products were threatened with a shutdown. ## FOUND FEEBLE MINDED MAN Officer Berg is not a man of a suspicious nature, but when a perfect stranger waves at him across the street, calls him over and treats him to candy, even if the man may be possessed with the spirit of Christmas giving, Officer Berg's suspicions are not to be aroused. The fatal mistake of being too congenial with the west side officer last Saturday morning led to taking George Wagner, formerly of the Home for the Feeble Minded at Chippewa Falls, into custody. Wagner was too effusive in his greetings, so the officer took him in tow, an investigation revealing the fact that he had escaped from the institution at Chippewa Falls last July, and had been working on a farm in Adams county since that time. An official of the home arrived in the city the same afternoon and took him back to the institution.

The Brown brothers found it convenient to leave on the evening train and have departed for parts unknown. Crowns, however, remaining, and has been charged with other charges. The men had been instrumental in causing a good deal of the trouble that has occurred down there, the court alleged, and it was decided that getting rid of them would be the best thing for everyone concerned. The charge the men were fined on was drunkenness, the lightest of several charges that could have been brought against them for the affair they were mixed up in. Other charges that were pending subject to their actions in leaving the city included resisting an officer, disturbing the peace and assault and battery. The men were charged with being at the bottom of some trouble which occurred there last week, and which looked for a time as if the old disturbances which were common last summer when the strike first opened were about to be revived. Their arrest had the desired effect and there has been practically no trouble there since.

ARPIN DREDGING CO. TAKES BIG CONTRACT

J. B. Arpin of the Arpin Dredging Co., closed a contract within the past week which involves $50,000 in dredging and the building of a road through the town of Canada, Wis. The contract will keep two of the Arpin machines busy continuously during the next several months and is one of the largest contracts awarded in the south this year. Mr. Arpin states that work will be started there immediately. The contract calls for considerable ditching for drainage purposes on the river from Grapville, Wis., where the Arpin dredging contracts in the past. The ditches are to be dug, the dirt thrown up on the banks and the bank leveled off and made into a road. Some of the roadway will be surfaced with concrete while another portion will be gravel surfacing. According to Mr. Arpin, Leon and Paul Arpin will probably go to Arkansas to work on the contract there, while there will probably be several other Grand Rapids men who handle the Arpin machines located on the Arkansas river. The work which will be used has been on a Texas job and is being torn down at the present time. The other machine will be a new one recently constructed. In addition to the big contract in Arkansas Mr. Arpin has closed a deal for an additional $60,000 worth of dredging work at Greenville, Wis. The work will be done both public and private work.

BOOST WOOD CO. TEACHER FOR JOURNAL TRIP ABROAD

The teachers of Wood County have organized during the past week to boost Miss Ella Hassler, supervising teacher of the county, as the candidate for the Milwaukee Journal contest, which will send one teacher from each Congressional District in the state to Europe next summer. The Journal has promised the teachers a fifty day trip over the battlefields of the world and a trip thru England and Scotland. ## FOUND PRICES HIGH IN PROVINCES IN GERMANY

Following a six months journey to several foreign countries, a visit in Copenhagen, Denmark, Hamburg and Berlin, Germany, and many other foreign cities, Mrs. W. G. Schroedel returned the latter part of last week from a visit to Germany. During her visit in the foreign countries Mrs. Schroedel found that food was actually scarce in many of the larger cities and prices demanded very high. This was due to the fact that Germany was unable to get the food at a more reasonable rate with the cards. They are permitted to buy food even without a card but the prices this way are very high. ## RIGHT OF WAY DISPUTE BRINGS TWO INTO COURT

A dispute over the right of way in front of the Dernbach cigar factory on First street north last Saturday brought C. F. Rosenberg, proprietor of the Golden Eagle road house, and Frank Garber, local junk man, into Judge Pomainville's court. The story the men tell is to the effect that Garber's car was standing in the road at that point, the deep snow on each side making the road rather narrow. Rosenberg, who was driving his car, attempted to pass, but the hubs of the cars became interlocked and he was unable to get by. Garber, it is stated, was asked to move his car to make room but did not want to do so as he was afraid it would break the wheel of the other car and leave him responsible. He told Rosenberg to get into the Garber machine and back it off. The exchange of words resulted in Rosenberg putting Garber into his machine by force, Garber claims, and attempting to force him to drive the machine.

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

Just as a Sign that You haven't forgot

"Busy as my father was, he always used to bring home roses to my mother. I gave him as much pleasure as I gave her, and she loved him just that much more for remembering."

So one man writes about his father—a father who became a very big man because he recognized the great truth that "A soul is greater than a subway."

Do not forget "her" birthday this year—"Say it with Flowers," you millions of husbands, sons, brothers and sweethearts.

Motives of kindness, unless expressed in actions, are as seeds that never grow.

COAL OPERATORS BALK AT PLAN

President Wilson Names Robinson, White and Peale as Commissioners.

FEAR CLASH ON SELECTION

Mine Owners Deny Any Agreement to Let Body Fix Wages in Protest on Personnel—May Repudiate Whole Scheme.

Washington, Dec. 23.—President Wilson announced the appointment of a commission to consider differences between the bituminous coal miners and operators, in accordance with the peace plan proposed by Attorney General Palmer and accepted by the United Mine Workers at Indianapolis last week.

The three members whose acceptances have already been received, it was announced, are:

Henry M. Robinson of Pasadena, Cal., to represent the public.

John P. White, a former president of the United Mine Workers, to speak for the workers.

Rembrandt Peale, a Pennsylvania mine operator, to guard the interests of the operators.

Immediately after the personnel of the commission was announced and a letter to the members and public, stating that both miners and operators had agreed to submission of their differences to such a tribunal, the executive committee of the bituminous coal operators issued a statement denying that they had agreed to such a basis for settlement of the strike as the president had outlined and stating that they had not been consulted as to the terms and conditions of the agreement.

The attitude of the operators was taken as a clear indication that they may repudiate the whole peace plan undertaken by the president and the attorney general.

MRS. TABOR TESTIFIES

SAYS SHE WAS WITH DAUGHTER AS DEATH CAME.

Declares Maud Succumbed to Attack of Asthma, May, 2, 1916—Buried Body and Told Son of Death.

Paw Paw, Mich., Dec. 22.—Maud Tabor died at 2 p. m. May 2, 1916, while she sat in an armchair at her home alone with her mother.

Mrs. Sarah I. Tabor, aged mother of the Lawton trunk mystery victim, made this statement to the coroner's jury here. Her daughter had been ill of asthma for some three days, she said.

On the night of May 1 the girl became worse, the mother said. Describing the last night's vigil, Mrs. Tabor, her face twisting, manifested the first signs of strong emotion she had displayed during the wearisome journey from California and the subsequent grilling by authorities.

Rising to her feet and stretching out her arms she described the scene in detail. Maud was delirious.

"We're coming to the creek, mother. We're coming to the creek!" Mrs. Tabor said her daughter cried.

"The water, mother! The water! I'm going to fall in."

She donned that hat that Maud or Joseph Virgo, the undertaker to whom she was secretly married, had ever discussed an illegal operation, contradicting Virgo's own testimony.

With these words, the aged mother said, Maud passed away. It was Tuesday morning. Several days later, Mrs. Tabor said she dressed the body and placed it in the trunk. Not until the following Sunday did she hear the news to the home of her son, Walter.

With the coroner's inquest completed and a verdict returned to the effect that Maud Tabor died as the result of an illegal operation, county authorities are endeavoring to delve more deeply into the mystery-enshrined lives of the Tabor family.

PLAN TO CURB PACKERS TOLD

Attorney General Palmer Announces "Big Five" Surrender to Government.

LIMIT IS PUT ON ACTIVITIES

Must Sell All Holdings in Stock Yards, Railroads and Terminals, Newspapers and Cold-Storage Warehouses and Branches.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Attorney General Palmer announced that the five big packers, their main subsidiaries, principal stockholders and managers had surrendered to the government's contentions against the monopolistic growth of the packing industry and its control of unrelated industries.

By the entry of a permanent injunction decree, to which the packers have consented, their activities are to be confined to meat and by-products, eggs, butter, poultry, cheese and condensed milk. Refrigeration is to be limited to the cure necessary for carrying their output.

By the decree, which is to be secured by the attorney general within the near future, the packers are to be required to sell their holdings in public stock yards, stock-yard railroads and terminals, to disassociate themselves with the retail meat business, and with all "unrelated lines." This is to be done within two years.

This solution of the packers' situation, which had its inception with an investigation by the federal trade commission and with the placing of the information in the hands of the attorney general, will render unnecessary the filing of suits against the packers.

"In general," says the department of justice statement, "this decree prevents the defendants from exercising any further control over the marketing of live stock. It forever prevents them from any control over the retailing of meat products. It eliminates them from the field of meat substitutes with the exception of eggs, butter, poultry and cheese, which are left for future consideration and appropriate action; and therefore, the price of meat is within the control of the people themselves."

"It places the conduct of these great aggregations of capital immediately under the eye of a federal court with reference to their business practices. But, greater than all, it establishes the principle that no group of men, no matter how powerful, can ever attempt to control the food table of the American people, or any one of the necessities or component parts of it."

"The department of justice, having in mind the necessities and interests of the whole American people in this critical reconstruction period, feels that by insisting upon this surrender on the part of the packing business it has accomplished more for the American people than could have been hoped for as a result of a long-drawn out legal battle."

Under the decree, the defendants, of whom there are 80, are compelled:

1. To sell under supervision of the United States district court, preferably to the live stock producers and the public, all of their holdings in public stock yards.

2. To sell, under the same supervision, and in like manner, all their interests in stock-yard railroads and terminals.

3. To sell all their interests in market newspapers.

4. To dispose of all their interests in public cold-storage warehouses, except as necessary for their own meat products.

5. To forever disassociate themselves with the retail meat business.

6. To forever disassociate themselves with all "unrelated lines," including wholesale groceries; fresh, canned, dried or salt fish; fresh, dried, evaporated or canned fruits; confectioneries, straws, soda water fountain supplies, etc.; molasses, honey, jams, jellies and preserves; spleens, sauces, relishes, etc.; coffee, tea, chocolate, cocoa, nuts, flour, sugar, rice and cereals (with an exception to be noted), bread, wafers, crackers, biscuits, spaghetti, vermicelli, macaroni, cereals, china, furniture, etc.

7. To abandon forever the use of their branch houses, route cars and auto-trucks, comprising their distribution system, for any other than their own meat and dairy products.

8. To submit perpetually to the jurisdiction of the United States district court under an injunction forbidding all the defendants from directly or indirectly maintaining any combination or conspiracy with each other or any other person or persons or monopolizing, or attempting to monopolize, any food product in the United States or indulging in any unlawful practices.

BERGER IS RE-ELECTED

WISCONSIN SOCIALIST DEFEATS FUSION CANDIDATE.

Rep. Dallingier Says He Will Object When Milwaukee Man Presents Himself to Be Sworn in as a Member.

Milwaukee, Dec. 22.—Victor L. Berger, Socialist, was re-elected to congress from the Fifth Wisconsin district, having defeated Henry H. Bodenstab, Republican, running as a fusion candidate, by 4,896 votes.

Berger's total vote was 24,807 and Bodenstab's 19,911. The returns indicate that approximately 9,000 voters did not go to the polls. The total registration in the district was about 53,000 voters.

Berger's vote in 1918 was 17,822, and his opponents' combined vote was 22,654. His plurality over Cameron, Democrat, was 5,507. Canopy polled 10,530.

Should the house of representatives again refuse to seat Berger, there will be a vacant chair until the regular election in 1920, as Gov. E. L. Phillips announced he would not call another special election.

"I do not believe in spending any more of the people's money in that way," the governor declared.

Mr. Bodenstab said: "I think that the majority of the voters of the Fifth district have been misled by a false propaganda. I am ready to continue in the fight to rid the community of foreign agitators and bolshevik adherents."

Washington, Dec. 22.—No move to dispute for the second time the right of Victor L. Berger, re-elected to the house of representatives, to a seat is expected until he presents himself to the sworn in as a member. Representative Dallingier, Massachusetts, chairman of the elections committee, said:

"I shall then object, as I did the previous time," Mr. Dallingier said.

The house may take action on a resolution to deny Berger a seat without the formality of referring the matter to the elections committee or reopening hearings, he explained.

MRS. TABOR SAYS VIRGO SLEW MAUD

Mother Tells How He Performed the Fatal Operation.

IS TIRED OF BEING THE GOAT

Aged Woman Places All Blame on Son-in-Law—Says He Killed Wife Because He Didn't Want Brats Around House.

Lawton, Mich., Dec. 24.—Mrs. Sarah I. Tabor confessed to the authorities of Van Buren county, the truth concerning the death and burial of her daughter, Maud Tabor Virgo, in a trunk in the cellar of their home at Lawton.

Showing emotion for the first time since her arrest, the aged woman broke down at 2 a. m. and cried to Prosecutors H. H. Adams and Glenn Warner, "Joe did it."

"Joe said he didn't want any brats around his house," the old lady sobbed out to Prosecutors Warner and Adams.

"Joe Virgo did it; Joe and nobody else, and for three years he's dared me to tell it."

Virgo, when confronted with the accusations of his mother-in-law, faltered a denial.

"It's not true," he said; "not a word of it."

Virgo Tried to Ship Body.

That Joseph Virgo tried to ship the body out of the state after Maud's death as the result of an illegal operation performed by him, was the statement of Mrs. Tabor, a report from Lawton said. Mrs. Tabor said that she prevented him from doing so. It was reported.

The sudden confession on the part of Mrs. Tabor, the wrinkled, pleuretic figure in the mystery which has at length caught Virgo in its tangles, is the first dramatic turn which the case has taken since it first stirred southern Michigan and the environs nearly four weeks ago.

Mrs. Tabor told her story with a rush of words.

"I knew Maud was to become a mother," she said. "Joe Virgo came to the house and took Maud away in an auto the latter part of April and was gone three days. He brought her back the Saturday before the Monday, May 1, when she died."

Premised to Embalm Body.

"Maud told me an illegal operation had been performed on her. She was delirious all day Sunday. Joe stayed until Monday night. Then he went away and Maud died at two o'clock."

"Joe came back Tuesday after Maud had died. He said that he would take care of the body and that he would embalm it, but that it was too soon to embalm it then."

"Joe put the body on the couch. I testified at the inquest that I put it there, but I didn't. Then he ran off again, and a few days later he came back and said he would put the body in the auto and either ship it out West or give it a decent burial some place here. So he went upstairs and got the old chest, and he put the body into it and I watched him."

"But then he changed his mind again, and instead of taking it away in the auto, he carried it down cellar."

Tired of Being the Goat.

"There, that's the story, and all there is to it."

Then Mrs. Tabor fell back upon her prerogatives as an old lady, sat back in her chair, took off her glasses and wiped her eyes.

"I told it because I was tired of being the goat," she added.

According to the statements of his mother, Walter Tabor was still ignorant of the facts of the case when he was brought back from California in the custody of Sheriff Dwight Barker.

TOWN OF ROCK MAN HAD CHILLAR SUPPLY STOLEN

Pittsville Record: Since the rapid rise in the price of all distilled liquors a new article has been found profitable enough to steal. Up in the town of Rock John Bothenberger, formerly chairman of the town, prepared himself against the great dry period by laying in a supply of wet stuff. On the night of November 22 when he and his family were gone from home, someone broke into his cellar and made away with the greatest share of the goods. They not only took the liquor but drank enough of it so that they were traced hereby and a settlement was made by the young men in question and their fathers so that the case might not go into court.

Not so long since thieves broke into the cellar at the residence of a saloon keeper in Grand Rapids and made away with most of his reserve stock. "That act came to light in the same manner that the town of Rock did—they drank too much and exposed themselves.

Our own city was also visited by booze thieves. Al Smith took his surplus stock home and put it in the cellar. While he and his family were gone from home, entrance was made to the cellar from the outside and seven gallons taken. "These fellows were wise enough not to drink enough to "spill" the game and have not yet been detected.

SCOUTS HOLD FIRST INTER-TROOP NIGHT
(Contributed.)
Delayed from last week.)
Last Thursday night at the armory the local troop of Boy Scouts of America held their first inter-troop meet. The program started out with the election of a cheer leader for the evening. Scout Walter Burt of Troop No. 1 was unanimously elected and immediately took charge of the cheering for the evening. There were over 100 scouts on the floor of the armory and under the direction of Scout Burt the old building fairly shook.

One of the features of the evening was the coronation of presenting American flags to the troops present. The color bearers marched to the end of the hall, where Judge Conaway made a very impressive speech of presentation, in which he told the scouts that they were to be the guardians of the flag, and keep it as it had been delivered to them free from any stain. The color bearers at conclusion of Judge Conaway's speech faced about, the orchestra played the national anthem while all the scouts stood at attention and saluted. The colors then were carried by the color bearers the length of the line and back and then the color guards took their posts with their respective troops.

A game of "O'Grady Says," the old army game, familiar to all ex-soldiers, proved a very exciting feature. The object of this game is to train the scout to think quickly. No command is to be obeyed unless preceded by "O'Grady Says." A first and second prize was awarded to the last two scouts to remain on the floor. The first prize was won by Ernest Smith of Troop No. 1, and the second honors by Carl Yosko of Troop No. 5.

The old scout game of "Knights" or "Horse and Rider" was also one of the competitive games for which prizes were offered. The boys were classified according to weight for this game, into three classes. Honors in the three classes were won as follows: Class A, Harold Marcum and Archie Collins of Troop No. 4, Class B, Walter Burt and Clarence Baldwin of Troop No. 1, Class C, Bernard and Henry Sweeney of Biron Troop No. one.

Intermingled with the other parts of the program were stunts by the various troops. The honors for the best stunt unquestionably goes to the Port Edwards troop. There was a real scout stunt consisting of a clever presentation of the compass points as required by the 2nd class scout test. Troops 1, 2, 3 and 4 and Biron Troop No. 1 also had very good stunts.

Following the conclusion of the program just to prove they were real scouts and not the parlor variety the Biron Troop asked the four miles home. This troop under the command of Mr. Zolmer displayed plenty of pep. Last Sunday their patrol leaders hiked down to the city to attend Non Com. school.

The music for the evening was furnished by the high school orchestra. The scout organization wishes to express to the orchestra its sincere appreciation for this courtesy.

As this is the season for general good turns, the scouts also voted unanimously to offer their services to the committee of the R. P. O. E. charges of the Christmas bazaar here. It was also decided to accept the request of the library to distribute Christmas greetings from the library. Patrol leaders all reported to the librarian Monday afternoon for instructions. The next general gathering of the scouts will be during the scout anniversary week, ending Feb. 8. This week has been designated as National Good Turn Week, and every person in the United States will be asked to do a good turn during that week.

THE CHRISTMAS PEACE OF THE PRINCE OF PEACE

Time in its rapid flight has carried us thru another year. Spring's flowers, summer's heat and autumn's fruits and harvests have come and gone. The snows of Christmas are with us again.

"The happy Christmas comes once more, the heavenly Guest is at the door."

Like the shepherds of old we once again stand before the manger. That old feeding trough has become the greatest cradle the world has ever known. He who was cradled in that bare manger has become the biggest star in the galaxy of the world's hopes.

At this joyful season we join in song at the birth of the Prince of Peace. The most joyous song this old world ever heard was that first Christmas hymn of the angels. Today we take up the strain of that ancient song and keep fresh in our memories those notes of peace.

It is true, that the armies of the nations have laid down their arms, but that, does not imply that we have peace. Although we have unrest in all walks of life, collectively as well as individually, nevertheless the song of the angels has become the deep desire of the human race. On this Christmas the world cries out for an abiding peace just as fervently as a year ago.

Men are weary of war and its destruction. They want peace. They want that peace the angels sang about that blessed morning long ago. They have tried war. They are heart-sick and weary. They want what war cannot give. They want peace of the Prince of Peace.

Where shall this peace be found? This great world-war proves just what the bible has ever taught—that peace can never be found on the battle field. The battle field is not the home of peace. It is the abode of death and destruction. It represents the baser elements in the human heart. The Peace of the Prince of Peace is not to be found there.

The peace of the Prince of Peace does not come through big armies, has cost the world millions of lives and an ocean of tears to learn its lesson. But we hope it has learned it. On this birthday of the Prince of Peace the world demands that civilization do away with those terrible implements of war. A world in arms will never experience the peace of this Prince.

This peace which the world so much desires will be found just where God placed it—at the manger. When the people of this old world join hands around the manger and learn the deeper meaning of the angel's song then we will have peace and not till then.

The nations of the world have tried their way long enough. They have tried to win it by the sword and now let them try God's way. Let them come back to the manger and on this Christmas day look upon the Prince of Peace. Let them set him on the throne of their hearts. Then we will have lasting peace as the world never dreamed of before.

Christmas as well as human reason says: We have tried the world's way long enough, now let us try God's way.

I might continue to speak of the terms of this peace, and of what it consists; but we must be short, for fear my scattered thoughts become confused. But let me say that nothing short of surrender will bring this peace. In His terms the Prince of Peace calls for full allegiance to Him. It is a personal peace. It is a peace between man and his God. It is a peace which promises full security against sin. It is a peace which guarantees full supplies for this life and for the life to come. It is a peace which provides a mansion over there. It is the most wonderful peace ever offered to man.

"This peace comes like everything good and great, from God, it comes in quiet stillness. There was only an angel song to the lowly shepherds. This was the announcement of His coming."

Thus has God always seen fit to send His peace. In the quiet stillness of a man's heart God whispers peace and then that soul knows true peace.

When men come back to the manger and learn to love each other, then the reign of the Prince of Peace will begin in earnest. When men come to the manger and learn true greatness then this peace will make to the manger and learn to do the will of God instead of the will of man then this peace of the Prince of Peace will rule over the earth, as the waters rule the face of the deep.

The blessed Christmas season has come again with all its joy and cheer. It is the season when we show appreciation to faithful servants; and among them do not forget your mail-man and the newsboy, who have been at your service every day of the year, regardless of the weather.

The reader may think that this but, my friend, remember, Christmas is a christian festival. Away from Christ we have no Christmas; it is to His honor we celebrate. "Peace on earth, good will to men."

Lutheran Pastor.

SCOUTS HOLD FIRST INTER-TROOP NIGHT

(Contributed.)

Delayed from last week.

Last Thursday night at the armory the local troop of Boy Scouts of America held their first inter-troop meet. The program started out with the election of a cheer leader for the ensuing year. Scout Walter Burt of Troop No. 1 was unanimously elected and immediately took charge of the cheering for the evening. There were over 150 scouts on the floor of the armory and when they broke forth in cheers under the direction of Scout Burt the old building fairly shook.

One of the features of the evening was the ceremony of presenting American flags to the troops present. The color bearers marched to the end of the hall, where Judge Conway made a very impressive speech of presentation, in which he told the scouts that they were to be the guardians of the flag, and keep it as it had been delivered to them free from any stain. The color bearers at conclusion of Judge Conway's address faced about, the orchestra played the national anthem while all the scouts stood at attention and saluted. The colors then were carried by the eight color bearers the length of the line and back and then the color guards took their posts with their respective troops.

A game of "O'Grady Says," the old army game, familiar to all ex-soldiers, proved a very exciting feature. The object of this game is to train the scout to think quickly. No command is to be obeyed unless preceded by "O'Grady Says." A first and second prize was awarded to the last two scouts to remain on the floor. The first prize was won by Ernest Smith of Troop No. 1, and the second honors by Guy York of Troop No. 5. The old scout game of "Knights" or "Horse and Rider" was also one of the competitive games for which prizes were offered. The boys were classified according to weight for this game into three classes. Honors in the three classes were won as follows: Class A, Harold Marceau and Archie Collins of Troop No. 4, Class B, Walter Burt and Clarence Baldwin of Troop No. 1, Class C, Bernard and Henry Sweeney of Troop No. 5.

Intermingled with the other parts of the program were stunts by the various troops. The honors for the best stunt unquestionably goes to the Port Edwards troop. There was a real scout stunt consisting of a stage demonstration and a clever presentation of the compass points as required by the 2nd class scout test. Troops 1, 2, 3 and 4 and Troop No. 1 also had very good stunts.

Following the conclusion of the program just to prove they were real scouts and not the parlor variety the Biron Troop hiked the four miles home. This troop under the command of Mr. Zeller displayed plenty of pep. Last Sunday their patrol leaders hiked down to the city to attend Non Com. school.

The music for the evening was furnished by the high school orchestra. The scout organization wishes to express to the orchestra its sincere appreciation for this courtesy. As this is the season for general good turns, the scouts also voted unanimously to offer their services to the committee of the B. P. O. E. in charge of the Christmas tree bazaar. It was also decided to accept the request of the library to distribute Christmas greetings from the library. Patrol leaders all reported to the librarian Monday afternoon for instructions. The next general gathering of the scouts will be during the scout anniversary week starting Feb. 8. ## LOCAL GIRL MARRIED RUDOLPH YOUNG MAN

Miss Clara Belknap of this city and Mr. Wm. C. Pagels of Rudolph were married Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the parsonage of the east side Lutheran church, Rev. Pautz of that congregation performing the ceremony.

The bride was attended by Miss Esther Plummer as bridesmaid, and the groomsmen were Mr. George Belknap. The bride made a very attractive appearance in a dress of brown, satin and georgette, while the bridesmaid was very attractive in blue serge. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left for Minneapolis, a wedding supper having been served them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Forest, at Minneapolis, Minn. After attending to the duties of the bride and groom in Minnesota and Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Pagels will return to this city to make their home.

Both of the young people are very well and favorably known in this city and community. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Belknap of this city, and a young lady who is liked and respected by all who know her. She was reared in this city, educated in the public schools, and was later graduated from the Wood County Normal. For the past five years Miss Belknap has been teaching in the schools of the county, having taught at Biron until the time of her marriage. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pagels of Rudolph, and is very well and favorably known in that community. Mr. Pagels was born and reared in Rudolph, and until recently farmed up there. He is an ambitious and industrious young man, and has habits who has every prospect for a bright future.

Upon their return from their wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Pagels will settle down here and start house-keeping with the best wishes of the Tribune and a host of other friends.

THE CHRISTMAS PEACE OF THE PRINCE OF PEACE

Time in its rapid flight has carried us thru another year. Spring's flowers, summer's heat and autumn's fruits and harvests have come and gone. The snows of Christmas are with us again.

"The happy Christmas comes once more, the Heavenly Guest is at the door."

Like the shepherds of old we once again stand before the manger. That rude feeding trough has become the greatest cradle the world has ever known. He who was despised in that bare manger has become the biggest star in the galaxy of the world's heroes.

At this joyful season we join in song at the birth of the Prince of Peace. The most joyous song this old world ever heard was that first Christmas hymn of the angels. To-day we take up the strains of that ancient song and keep fresh in our memories those notes of peace.

It is true, that the armies of the nations have laid down their arms, but that, does not imply that we have peace. Although we have interest in all walks of life, we are as well as individually, nevertheless the song of the angels has become the deep desire of the human race. On this Christmas the world cries out for an abiding peace just as fervently as a year ago.

Men are weary of war and its destruction. They want peace. They want that peace the angels sang about on that blessed morn long ago. They have tried war. They are heart-sick and weary. They want what war cannot give. They want peace. Of the Prince of Peace. Where shall we find peace?

This age of the world-war proves just what the bible has ever taught—that peace can never be found on the battle field. The battle field is not the home of peace. It is the abode of death and destruction. It represents the baseness of the human heart. The Prince of Peace of Peace is not to be found there.

The peace of the Prince of Peace does not come through big armies, has cost the world millions of lives and an ocean of tears to learn the lesson. On this birthday of the Prince of Peace the world demands that civilization do away with those terrible implements of war. A world in arms will never experience the peace of this Prince.

This peace which the world so much desires will be found just where God placed it—at the manger. When the people of this old world join hands around the manger and learn anew the deeper meaning of the angel's song then we will have peace and the Prince of Peace. The nations of the world have tried their way long enough. They have followed war to its bitter end. Now let them try God's way. Let them come back to the manger and on this Christmas day look upon the Prince of Peace. Let them set him on the throne of their hearts. Then we will have lasting peace as the world never dreamed of before. Christmas, as well as human reason says: We have tried the world's way long enough, now let us try God's way.

I might continue to speak of the terms of this peace, and of what it consists; but we must be short, for fear my scattered thoughts become too lengthy. But let me say that nothing short of surrender will bring this peace. In His terms the Prince of Peace calls for full allegiance to Him. It is a personal peace. It is a peace between man and God. It is a peace which promises full security against sin. It is a peace which guarantees full supplies for this life and for the life to come. It is a peace which provides a mansion over there. It is the most wonderful peace ever offered to man.

This peace comes like everything good and great, from God, it comes in quiet stillness. There was only an angel song to the lowly shepherds. This was the announcement of His coming. Thus has God always seen fit to send His peace. In the quiet stillness of a man's heart God whispers peace and then that soul knows true peace.

When men come back to the manger and learn to love each other, then the reign of the Prince of Peace will begin in earnest. When men come to the manger and learn true greatness then this peace will make to the manger and learn to do the will of God instead of the will of man. Then this peace of the Prince of Peace will rule over the earth as the waters rule the face of the deep. The blessed Christmas season has come again with all its joy and cheer. It is that season when we show appreciation to faithful servants; and among them do not forget your mail-man and the newsboy, who have been at your service every day of the year, regardless of the weather.

Every reader may think that the but, my friend, remember, Christmas is a Christian festival. Away from Christ we have no Christmas; it is to His honor we celebrate. "Peace on earth, good will to man."

Lutheran Pastor.

New Uses for Laminated Woods

Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture

The present-day penchant of manufacturers and others for substitutes threatens even those trusted baseball bats to which every big league batter looks to perpetuate his fame. The forest products laboratory of the forest service, United States department of agriculture, has recently been manufacturing experimentally a number of laminated wood articles with the idea of utilizing small lumber stock. Baseball bats are among the articles which have been experimented on. In practically every instance the products made from this material have given as good service as those made in the regular way. Whether they would satisfy the critical demands of professionals who inspect their white ash clubs with zealous care is a matter as yet undetermined.

Laminated Bowling Pins Glued With Hide, Also Water Resistant Casein Glue.

mined. The fact, however, that the initial success in the experiments effected seems to indicate that there is a large field heretofore undeveloped in which laminated wood can be used successfully. Attention is called to the fact that, while some of the bats have broken under severe usage, the breaks were not in the glued joints, indicating that the artificial joining has been accomplished in an entirely satisfactory manner.

Shoe lasts were also made of laminated wood and after undergoing the severest usage in various factories are still serviceable. Flat blocks of a similarly built-up material were tried out thoroughly and proved very satisfactory. Recently constructed specimens of wagon bolsters which were made up with laminations carefully joined just before gluing are standing weather tests well. A wagon company is giving these articles a trial.

CHICKENS NEED HEAT AND LIGHT

Fowls that are wintered in cold parts of the country, where the temperature runs below freezing to 20 degrees or more below zero, need considerable protection. When the cold is so intense that the fowl is uncomfortable, a certain part of the heat and energy from the food eaten is used to combat this low temperature and the food which is required for that purpose cannot, of course, be used to manufacture eggs. Therefore, the construction of the house varies with the temperature or part of country in which it is to be used. A thin and partly open house is best for warmer climates, but must have reasonably thick walls and be capable of being closed tightly on severe nights in cold sections. It is comparatively cheap to make a house warm by using several thicknesses of inexpensive paper, and if a better looking structure is wanted, other methods can be employed. In any event, the house must be made comfortable.

A dark poultry house is unhealthy and uncomfortable. There should be plenty of windows to let in light so that the house is bright and they should be kept clean so that the sun can shine in to warm and brighten the interior. The direct rays of the sun will kill every germ of disease that it touches and that in itself is important. Too much glass is a disadvantage, because the house warms up too much in the daytime when the fowls are busy and cools down too rapidly at night when they are on the roost. Windows should have both upper and lower sashes so that they can be lowered and raised to let in little such air according to the outside temperature.

It is said that fowls and birds in a state of nature are never sick. Only when we confine them in close and unwholesome quarters do they become so.

SAYINGS OF NOTABLES

Napoleon Bonaparte: How doth the little busy it improve each shining hour.
Eve: A little knowledge is a dangerous thing.
Darwin: I could a daffodil!
Lillian Russell: A thing of beauty is a joy forever!
Aeschylus: Don't put your foot in it!
Samson: The most unkindest cut of all!
Tiffany: There are serious in stones!
Crispian: Laughter and the world laughs with you!

Royalty Formerly Married Outside Its Own Circles

Britain's kings did not always seek their mates from the narrow circles of royalty. In the days of the Plantagenets, Tudors and Stuarts alliances of English and Scotch monarchs with their subjects were not uncommon. The royal marriage act was passed in 1772 prohibiting any descendant of George II, except those who were the issue of princesses married into foreign houses, from contracting marriages before the age of twenty-five without the assent of the king signified under the great seal.

The Last Rose of Summer.

"The Last Rose of Summer" got its name from a lyric by Tom Moore set to a melody originally called "The Groves of Blarney." Beethoven was attracted to this melody and he arranged it as a song for voice with piano accompaniment. Flotow made use of it in its entirety in his opera "Martha."

Parasite That Attacks Both Cedar and Apple Tree With Bad Results

"It may seem strange that a parasite should attack the stems and leaves of the cedar and produce these tumors, like growths, but this is only one-half of the story," says Frank D. Kern, writing of the parasite known as "cedar apple," in Boys' Life. "The other half is the climax of strangeness. The parasite leads a 'double life.' In its other stage it lives on the apple tree, chiefly affecting the leaves, but sometimes the fruit. Wild crab apples and cultivated apples are both affected. The apple grower speaks of it as 'orchard rust,' and on the apple it produces an entirely different effect. From its appearance one would never suspect its relation to the 'cedar apple.' Yellowish or reddish spots first appear on the apple leaves. On the upper side of these spots small dots develop and later become blackish. On the under side of the leaves delicate feathery projections develop. In the fall, winter and spring, the parasite lives on the cedar. It goes back and forth by means of tiny 'germs' known as spores, which are carried by the wind. This history of the parasite suggests that it would find conditions best where cedars and apples grow close together, and such is the case. On the apple this rust is a serious disease in some localities. The best method of prevention is the destruction of the cedars in the vicinity. It is not likely that the wind will carry the spore for more than a few miles. The state of West Virginia has a law regarding the destruction of cedars near apple orchards. The parasite does not spread from apple to apple but from cedar to cedar. Some varieties of apples resist the attacks better than others. I have seen Staysman Winesaps practically untouched when Grimes Golden in the same orchard were badly affected."

No National Bank Failure For Over One Year; Record Shows Wonderful Increase

The resources of the national banks in the United States have had a greater growth during the past five and one-half years than in the forty years immediately prior to 1914, according to a chart prepared by the office of the controller of the currency. It is shown that the capital, surplus and undivided profits of the national banks on July 1, 1919, were at the highest point since the inauguration of the national banking system, and exceeded by $313,000,000 the amount of the total capital, surplus and undivided profits as of January, 1914. The increase in resources from February, 1874, to January 15, 1914 (40 years), was $4,487,854,600, while from January 15, 1914, to June 30, 1919 (five and one-half years), it was $6,000,104,802.

Another chart of the controller demonstrates that in the matter of immunity from failure, the record for the past 22 months, since January 1, 1918, has been 80 times, or 300 per cent, better than the record for the 40-year period prior to 1914, and that for the past calendar year there has been no failure of any national bank in the entire country involving loss to depositors.

Still another chart shows that the annual net earnings of the national banks increased more during the five-year period from July 1, 1914, to July 1, 1919, than in the entire 40 years prior to that time.

WHO WON CHAMPIONSHIP FLAG FOR CINCINNATI?

The oft-repeated query, "Who won the war?" is paralleled by one just as puzzling. It is, "Who won the pennant for Cincinnati?" Some one has figured that at least four men who are not members of the Redland outfit have just claims to recognition in this connection. They are as follows:

William E. Barker, president of the Phillies, who released Pat Moran last winter.
John McGraw, who, after he had signed Moran as a coach for his pitchers, voluntarily released him so that he might accept the management of the Reds.
Harney Dreyfuss, who refused to waive on Walter Duerst and Jimmy Ring last spring and so kept them in the league.
Charles H. Ebbetts, who refused to pay Billy Kopp's salary demands, the result being that Kopp remained with the Reds.

SAM CREWS IS DISAPPOINTED

Pitcher Who Hurlled No-Hit Game Likely to Remain in Southern League Next Year.

Sam Crews, who pitched a no-hit game for Birmingham against Bob Coleman's Mobile team on May 2 last, will very likely remain in the Southern league for another season. His work was uniformly excellent this season, but not good enough to induce his purchase by a major league club. Had the draft system still been in vogue, it is certain he would have been grabbed by one or the other of the big league clubs. In his case, the abandonment of the system caused a disappointment to an ambitious young pitcher.

RUNNERS RETURNED TO PENN

Coach Robertson Encouraged by Comeback of Landers—Expects to Regain Laurels.

The return of Shymman Landers to the University of Pennsylvania track squad was a big encouragement to Coach Lawson Robertson. With Shields, the famous mile runner of two years ago, and the promise of Maxam, the quarter-mile star, returning, the Red and Blue may regain some of its lost laurels in 1920.

GOSSIP AMONG SPORTS

Toledo will devote profits from boxing contests to charity causes.

Cleveland is displaying a real liking for the professional football game.

Annapolis has arranged seventeen baseball games for the home field in 1920.

New York city enjoys indoor ice skating.

Why this never-ending crusade against wretches? They are not as bad as senators or butchers.

A total of 270 races were contested in the grand circuit during the recent season for purses amounting to $469,442.

Johnny Dundee, the New York lightweight, is estimated, has earned close to $65,000 in his bouts during the year.

Jim Corbett, Kid McCoy, Tom Kennedy, Kid Broad and many other boxers now are making a success of the silent drama.

Albert "Lefty" Lelfield, the Browns' "comeback" southpaw, has been pitching professional baseball since 1908, a stretch of seventeen years.

Jack Tait, the Toronto sprinter, may organize a relay team to take part in various cities of the United States during the coming winter season.

The grand circuit stewards will meet in Syracuse to allot dates for the 1920 light harness events.

The beauty of football seems to be that if the winning team hadn't done something just at the last minute, the other fellows would have won.

Report in International League circles is that Chick Harman, who finished the season as manager of the Huntington team, will lead the Newark Bears next year in place of Pat Donovan.

CHAMPIONSHIP NEVER WON BY FIVE TEAMS

Senators, Indians, Browns, Yanks and Cards Yet to Win.

During Six Successive Years Just Ended No Club Has Repeated—In American League Four Clubs Have Had Monopoly.

Pennant winning in the National league appears to be moving in a cycle and if the Pirates and Cardinals only could win the pennant, races of 1920 and 1921 the circle would be complete. During the six successive seasons ending with the last campaign no club has repeated as a pennant winner, and no team has managed to win two pennants. The Boston Braves won in 1914 and the three other eastern clubs carried off the honors in the next three seasons—the Phillies in 1915, the Dodgers in 1916, and the Giants in 1917. Last year the pennant moved westward and went to the Cubs. Now the Reds have won the honors, but it is doubtful that either the Pirates or the Cardinals will be able to add another link to the chain that has been forged during the last six years.

Pennant winning has been something of a monopoly in the past, two or three clubs taking most of the honors over a long stretch of years. From 1890 to 1900, inclusive, the Boston, Brooklyn and Baltimore clubs did all the pennant winning in the National league. Boston won five pennants, while Baltimore and Brooklyn got three apiece.

From 1901 to 1913, inclusive, the Giants, Cubs and Pirates did all the winning in the National league. The giants won in 1904-5 and 1911-12, the Pirates in 1901-23 and 1909, and the Cubs winning in 1906-7-8 and 1910. The Braves broke into the claimed circle in 1914, and since that year the pennants have been moving from city to city. The St. Louis National league club is the only one of the senior major league which never has had a pennant winner.

In the American league only four of the eight clubs have had pennant winners since the league was started 20 years ago. Philadelphia and Boston lead with six pennants each, Chicago has won five flags, while Detroit has accounted for the remaining three. Chicago won in 1903-7, 1909, 1917 and 1919. Philadelphia won in 1902, 1905, 1910-11 and 1913-4. Boston won in 1903-4, 1912, 1915-16 and 1918. Detroit carried off the honors in 1907-8. The American league pennant has never fallen at the home fields of the Yankees, Senators, Browns or Indians.

MEREDITH GOES TO ANTWERP

World's Half-Mile Record Holder Has Changed His Mind About Retiring From Sport.

Ted Meredith is undoubtedly keen to make the trip to Antwerp next summer, for he has changed his mind about retiring and has begun training.

Ted Meredith.

Ted has placed himself under the care of Lawson Robertson, the Penn coach, who was much surprised at the turn of speed shown by the world's half-mile record holder in his first workout. Ted has already accepted invitations to compete in several indoor meets this winter.

HIGH COST STRIKES BOWLING

Chicago Alley Owners Boost Price of Games to Twenty Cents—"Increased Overhead."

Proprietors of Chicago bowling alleys have increased their price five cents a game, and a man now may pay the ball for 20 cents, or two for 35 cents. The nickel was added because of "increased overhead," the bowling alley owners said.

Forward Pass Makes Good.

The forward pass has come into its own. There was a time when it was often a boomerang because so many passes were intercepted; but this season some of the best teams have been bewildered and demoralized by brilliant overhead attacks.

Italian Championships.

In the recent Italian athletic championships the 20-kilometer race was won by Bini in 1 hour 9 minutes 8 seconds. Salvo won the 200 meters in 24.2 seconds and Norvini the 800 meters in 2 minutes 12 seconds.

All of Reds Reserved.

Garry Herrmann has reserved all his championship players for the Reds of 1920, according to the list of National league reservations made public by President John Heydler.

Yank Jockey Hurt in Spain.

George Archibald, the American jockey, was seriously injured at the Castellana race track, near Madrid, when his mount collided with a railing.

Miss Norval Shows Up Well.

Hugh Overly, former Ohio trainer, now in Michigan, visited the late Buckeye meetings with the trotting mare, Miss Norval, 2:10, by Norval, the old Lina sire. Overly won a number of races with the mare, which must be well along in years.

Seaton Gets One-Hit Game.

Tom Seaton, who pitched for the San Francisco team last season, showed his old-time dexterity when he held the strong Los Angeles team to one hit on June 8.

HAPPENINGS in the CITIES

Much Activity in the Interstitial Gland Business

SAN FRANCISCO.—This interstitial gland business is getting to be pretty lively out at the San Quentin prison—or else the press agent is putting something across on the editors. Here's story No. 1, as printed in the newspapers:

Deeply penitent because the dependents of Anton Schoenbus, San Francisco detective, have been robbed of his support, Floyd Lee McClure, who killed Schoenbus, today offered to auction his interstitial glands to the highest bidder as a benefit to the widow and children of Schoenbus. McClure had been told that a business man had written to doctors at San Quentin prison offering $10,000 for the youth-giving interstitial glands of a murderer soon to be hanged there.

"It is not a very pleasant thought," said McClure, "and I would rather not talk about it, but I'll tell the world I'm game for the operation even if it is done before I hang."

"I would do anything to make amends for my crime—anything in the world to help the widow of Schoenbus. I wouldn't mind doing anything if I could get the $10,000. I'll be glad to undergo the operation on condition that the money goes to Mrs. Schoenbus."

McClure killed Schoenbus in San Francisco when the detective climbed on the running board of the automobile McClure and William E. Chastain had stolen.

Here is story No. 2: While her two little daughters clung to her skirts, Mrs. Antonio Lupina tearfully renounced any intention to contest for the $10,000 offered by a wealthy business man in event her husband is hanged at San Quentin prison. She tried to explain in broken English that $10,000—or a million for that matter—would not recompense her for the life of her husband.

"If I took the money," she said, "it would bring me only unhappiness. Every dollar would remind me of my husband's death on the gallows. He was a good husband. I would die at my work before I would profit by my husband's death."

Small Boy Finds New Use for Automobile Tires

DENVER.—A number of large automobile tires rolling blithely down Cheesman park hill at a high rate of speed caused a traffic blockade at Tenth and Franklin streets several afternoons last week. Passing pedestrians and motorists stood in open-mouthed amazement, looking at what appeared to be auto tires endowed with life, some rolling with perfect balance, others reeling drunkenly from side to side and at the end of the hill landing in a heap.

Upon closer observation the tires were found to be filled with small boys curled snugly in the inside of the rim and hugely enjoying the surprise of the passersby.

The racing is the latest fad in the sport realm of the small boy, and the lad whose father owns an automobile and a number of old tires is the most popular member of his group.

The tires are hauled to the top of the hill, and in order to make the race successful, twice as many boys as there are tires are required. When the contestants are properly curled in the tires, with feet and hands firmly braced, the boys behind the tires, called the starters, give them a push and away they go, spinning down the two blocks of unbroken hill, ending at Tenth and Franklin.

Alas! This Is An Age of Ingenious Camouflage

NEW YORK.—This is an age of camouflage. Yes; of course the word has been overworked. Maybe it has been any more in our best journalistic clothes. But it's an age of camouflage just the same. Now take the case of John Smith of the East. He is up for examination in a case of assault and battery. He did not deny that Emil Emulsion hired him to beat up Joe Lausky or that he got $5 from Emil for beating up Joe. But he strongly denied that he did beat up Joe. Finally they got the truth out of John, who thus explained the seeming inconsistencies of his statement:

"When a fellow is hired to do up another guy he goes and tells him about it. Then they get together and they stick courtplaster all over the guy's face and tie a bandage around his head with a little beef blood showing through and put his arm in a sling. The guy who wants him done up looks him over and thinks he got his money's worth."

Now this is art, but is it honest? Is crime not to be depended upon, to be what it seems? We know that our leather chairs are not made of hide, but of old rubber boots and canvased suits. We know that children at the beach frequently make use of real. We understand that our soulless coats are made from the fur of the muskrat and that our linen is cotton. Knowing, nobody cares. But it had been supposed that crime was above subordination. Here we have a detailed description of camouflage assault.

When things become too ingenious to kick in the ribs of the persons they are paid to assault and resort to camouflage to make the patron think he is getting something just as good, whether are we drifting?

Gold Star in the Window for Marijane, Aged 6

CHICAGO.—There is a gold star in the window of 823 North Lamon avenue in memory of Marijane, the six-year-old daughter of Otto E. Smith, a brickman on the North Western railroad. One night Marijane climbed up in her mother's lap and asked all about stars in the window. Then she explained about Miss Mills, her teacher in the suburban grade at the North school. Each time they were perfect in their lessons the teacher gave them a little slip marked "100 per cent." When they got ten of these she gave them a gold star.

"I'm going to get a gold star," said Marijane. "When I do will you put it up in the window?"

"Yes, dear," the mother said. "And when you get your gold star father will give you a dollar and I'll get you a nice little book."

One afternoon Marijane came home with triumph and pride in her eyes. "I've got my ten slips," she announced. "Monday I'll get my gold star." That Monday when the mother left for her work downtown, she promised to bring the book home with her.

The father returned from his work first. His little girl greeted him with the great news.

"Celebrate with some candy," the father said. He gave her a nickel and she ran out for the sweets.

The candy shop was at Chicago and Lamon avenues, on the other side of the street. West on Chicago avenue a street car was coming. Behind it came a big automobile. It was driven by Henry A. Finlay, 224 North Elmwood avenue, Oak Park. With him were Mrs. Finlay and their three-year-old boy Alfred.

Behind the street car ran Marijane, intent upon her candy. Mr. Finlay saw the child and switched his machine against an electric light pole in an effort to avert the tragedy. The machine was wrecked and all three occupants thrown out. But it was too late. A fender had struck Marijane and fractured her skull.

The Amphibious Turtle Has Nothing on Mr. Baker

HIGHLAND PARK, ILL.—Somewhere between here and Florida is traveling Milton H. Baker. He's headed south on a motorcycle and he plans a 5,000-mile trip. The particularly interesting part of this is the equipment of the traveler. The amphibious turtle has nothing on him. He does not have whether school keeps or not. In short, he carries his house on his back and he's fixed for everything but aviation.

On his motorcycle he carries a 12-foot folding boat of a type used by explorers. When he comes to a lake, he simply unfolds the boat, places the motorcycle in it, attaches the motor to the propeller shaft and goes skimming over the waves. If the gas runs out or the engine goes dead, he has a paddle. If the paddle snaps he has a sail.

He also carries a tent, which he can place over himself and the motorcycle at night if on land, or over the boat if on the water.

As a protection against swampy ground he carries a waterproof flooring for the tent and an air mattress, which may also serve the double purpose of a life preserver or an air tank to keep the boat afloat.

But this does not complete the equipment. There is a camping outfit, a complete assortment of tackle for catching Florida's famous green trout, and a mosquito tent.

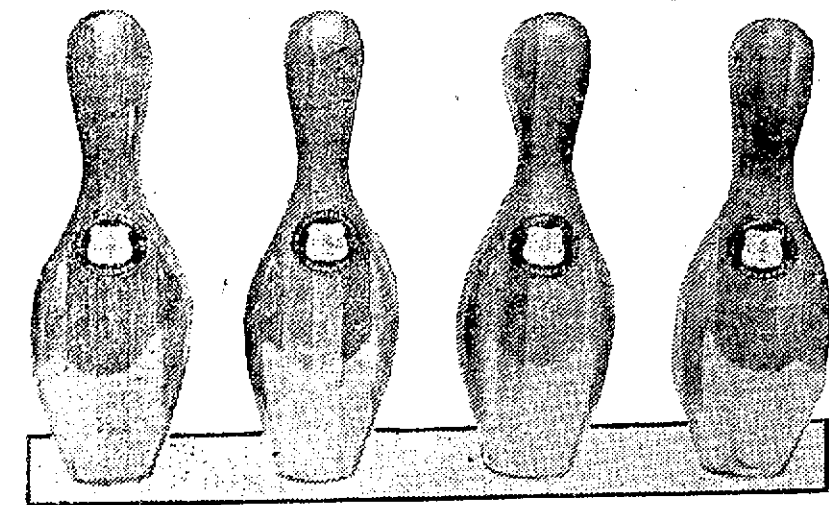

The whole outfit is balanced on a motorcycle side car, which folds up

New Uses for Laminated Woods

Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture

The present-day penchant of manufacturers and others for substitutes threatens even those trusted baseball bats to which every big league hitter looks to perpetuate his fame. The forest products laboratory of the United States department of agriculture, has recently been manufacturing experimentally a number of laminated wood articles with the idea of utilizing small lumber stock. Baseball bats are among the articles which have been experimented on. In practically every instance the products made from this material have given as good service as those made in the regular way. Whether they would satisfy the critical demands of professionals who inspect their white ash clubs with zealous care is a matter as yet undetermined.

Laminated Bowling Pine Glued With Hide, Also Water Resistant Casein Glue.

The fact, however, that the initial success in the experiments cited seem to indicate that there is a large field heretofore undeveloped in which laminated wood can be used successfully. Attention is called to the fact that, while some of the bats have broken under severe use, the breaks were not in the glued joints, indicating that the artificial joining has been recognized in an entirely satisfactory manner. Above bats were also made of laminated wood and after undergoing the severest usage in various factories are still serviceable. Flat blocks of a similarly built-up material were tried out thoroughly and proved very satisfactory. Recently constructed specimens of wagon bolsters which were made up with laminations carefully joined just before gluing are standing weather tests well. A wagon company is giving these articles a trial.

CHICKENS NEED HEAT AND LIGHT

Fowls that are wintered in cold parts of the country, where the temperature runs below freezing to 20 degrees or more below zero, need considerable protection. When the cold is so intense that the fowl is uncomfortable, a certain part of the heat and energy from the food eaten is used to combat this low temperature and the food which is required for that purpose cannot, of course, be used to manufacture eggs. Therefore, the construction of the house varies with the temperature of part of a country in which it is to be used. A thin and partly open house is best for warmer climates, but must have reasonably thick walls and be capable of being closed quite tightly on severe nights in cold sections. It is comparatively cheap to make a house warm by using several thicknesses of inexpensive paper, and if a better looking one is wanted, other materials can be employed. In any event, the house must be made comfortable. A dark poultry house is unwholesome and uncomfortable. There should be plenty of windows to let in light so that the house is bright and the fowls can shine in to warm and brighten the interior. The direct rays of the sun will kill every germ of disease that it touches and that is itself is important. Too much glass is a disadvantage, because the house warms up too much in the daytime when the fowls are busy and cools down too rapidly at night when they are both asleep and lower so that they can be covered and raised to let in little or much air according to the outside temperature. It is said that fowls and birds in a state of nature are never sick. Only when we confine them in close and unwholesome quarters do they become so.

SAYINGS OF NOTABLES

Napoleon Bonaparte: How doth the little busy B improve each shining hour? Eve: A little knowledge is a dangerous thing. Darwin: I could a tail unfold! Lillian Russell: A thing of beauty is a joy forever! Achilles: Don't put your foot in it! Sausage: The most unkindest out of all! Tiffany: There are sermons in stones! Crispin: Laughs and the world laughs with you!

Royalty Formerly Married Outside Its Own Circles

Britain's kings did not always seek their mates from the narrow circles of royalty. In the days of the Plantagenets, Tudors and Stuarts alliances of English and Scotch monarchs with their subjects were not uncommon. The royal marriage act was passed in 1772 prohibiting any descendant of George II, except those who were the issue of princesses or princesses married into foreign houses, from contracting marriages before the age of twenty-five without the assent of the king signified under the great seal.

The Last Rose of Summer.

"The Last Rose of Summer" got its name from a lyric by Tom Moore set to a melody originally called "The Troves of Blarney." Beethoven was attracted to this melody and he arranged it as a song for voice with piano accompaniment. Flotow made use of it in its entirety in his opera "Martha."

Canadian, 104 Years Old, Dead.

Parasite That Attacks Cedar and Apple Tree With Bad Results

"It may seem strange that a parasite should attack the stems and leaves of the cedar and produce these tumor-like growths, but this is only one-half of the story," says Frank D. Kern, writing of the parasite known as "Cedar Apples," in Boys' Life. "The other half is the climax of strangeness. The parasite leads a 'double life.' In its other stage it lives on the apple tree, chiefly affecting the leaves but sometimes the fruit. Wild crab apples and cultivated apples are both affected and cultivated apples are both affected. The apple grower speaks of it as 'orchard rust,' and on the apple it produces an entirely different effect. From its appearance one would never suspect its relation to the 'cedar apples.' Yellowish or reddish spots first appear on the apple leaves. On the upper side of these spots small dots develop and later become blackish. On the under side of the leaves delicate feathery projections develop. In the fall, winter and spring, the parasite lives on the cedar. It goes back and forth by means of tiny 'germs' known as spores, which are carried by the wind. This history of the parasite suggests that it would find conditions best where cedars and apples grow close together, and such is the case. On the apple this rust is a serious disease in some localities. The best method of prevention is the destruction of the cedars in the vicinity. It is not likely that the wind will carry the spore for more than a few miles. The state of West Virginia has a law regarding the destruction of cedars near apple orchards. The parasite does not spread from apple to apple or from cedar to cedar. Some varieties of apples resist the attacks better than others. I have seen Stayman Winesaps practically untouched when Grimes Golden in the same orchard were badly affected."

No National Bank Failure For Over One Year; Record Shows Wonderful Increase

The resources of the national banks in the United States have had a greater growth during the past five and one-half years than in the forty years immediately prior to 1914, according to a chart prepared by the office of the comptroller of the currency. It is shown that the capital, surplus and undivided profits of the national banks on July 1, 1919, were at the highest point since the inauguration of the national banking system, exceeding by $333,000,000 the amount of the total capital, surplus and undivided profits as of January, 1914. The increase in resources from February, 1914, to January 1, 1914, 40 years, was $9,457,354,600, while from January 1, 1914, to June 30, 1919 (five and one-half years), it was $9,508,104,862. Another chart of the comptroller demonstrates that in the matter of deposits, the record for the past 22 months, since January 1, 1918, has been 30 times, or 300 per cent, better than the record for the 40-year period prior to 1914, and that for the past calendar year there has been no failure of any national bank in the entire country involving loss to depositors. Still another chart shows that the annual net earnings of the national banks increased more than five times from July 1, 1914, to July 1, 1919 (five and one-half years) from $1,124,119,119 in the entire 40 years prior to that time.

French Jockeys Struck for Fifteen Francs a Day With Food—Owners Rejected Their Demands.

Demands of the stable boys at the LaFayette, Chancery and Longchamps race tracks to enforce which they declared a strike, were for fifteen francs a day with food, 1 per cent of the stable stakes won by the charges they cared for, four hours' work on Sunday and one day off each month. ## WHO WON CHAMPIONSHIP FLAG FOR CINCINNATI?

The oft-repeated query, "Who won the war?" is paralleled by one just as puzzling. It is, "Who won the pennant for Cincinnati?" Some one has figured that at least four men who are not members of the Redland outfit have just claims to recognition in this connection. They are as follows: William F. Baker, president of the Phillies, who released Pat Moran last winter. John McGraw, who, after he had signed Moran as a coach for his pitchers, voluntarily released him so that he might accept the management of the Reds. Barney Dreyfuss, who refused to waive on Walter Ruethe and Jimmy Ring last spring and so kept them in the league. Charles E. Ebbetts, who refused to pay Billy Kopt's salary demands, the result being that Kopt remained with the Reds.

Pitcher Who Hurlled No-Hit Game Likely to Remain in Southern League Next Year.

Sam Crews, who pitched a no-hit game for Birmingham against Bob Coleman's Mobile team on May 2 last, will very likely remain in the Southern league for another season. His work was uniformly excellent this season, but not good enough to induce his purchase by a major league club. Had the draft system still been in vogue, it is certain he would have been grabbed by one of the other of the big league clubs. In his case, the abolishment of the system caused a disappointment to an ambitious young pitcher.

RUNNERS RETURNED TO PENN

Coach Robertson Encouraged by Comeback of Landers—Expects to Regain Laurels.

The return of Sherman Landers to the University of Pennsylvania track squad was a big encouragement to Coach Lawson Robertson. Landers, the famous mile runner of two years ago, and the promise of a quarter-mile star, returning to the Red and Blue may regain some of his lost laurels in 1920.

GOSSIP AMONG SPORTS

Toledo will devote profits from boxing contests to charity cases.

Cleveland is displaying a real liking for the professional football game.

Annapolis has arranged seventeen baseball games for the home field in 1920.

New York city enjoys indoor ice skating.

Why this never-ending crusade against wrestling? They are not as bad as senators or hatters.

A total of 270 races were contested in the grand circuit during the recent season for purses amounting to $486,442.

Johnny Dundee, the New York lightweight, it is estimated, has earned close to $65,000 in his bouts during the year.

Jim Corbett, Kid McCoy, Tom Kennedy, Kid Broad and many other boxers now are making a success of the silent drama.

Albert "Lefty" Leifeld, the Browns' coach, has been pitching professional baseball since 1902, a stretch of seventeen years.

Jack Tait, the Toronto sprinter, may organize a relay team to take part in various cities of the United States during the coming winter season.

The grand circuit stewards will meet in Syracuse to allot dates for the 1920 light harness events.

The beauty of football seems to be that if the winning team hadn't done something just at the last minute, the other fellows would have won.

Report in International league circles is that Chick Hartman, who finished the season as manager of the Birmingham team, will lead the Newark Bears next year in place of Pat Donovan.

CHAMPIONSHIP NEVER WON BY FIVE TEAMS

Senators, Indians, Browns, Yanks and Cards Yet to Win.

During Six Successive Years Just Ended No Club Has Repeated—In American League Four Clubs Have Had Monopoly.

Pennant winning in the National league appears to be moving in a cycle and if the Pirates and Cardinals only could win the pennant races of 1920 and 1921 the circle would be complete. During the six successive seasons ending with the last campaign no club has repeated as a pennant winner, and no team has managed to win two pennants. The Boston Braves won in 1914 and the three other eastern clubs carried off the honors in the next three seasons—the Phillies in 1915, the Dodgers in 1916, and the Giants in 1917. Last year the pennant moved westward and went to the Cubs. Now the Reds have won the honors, but it is doubtful that either the Pirates or the Cardinals will be able to add another link to the chain that has been forged during the last six years.

Pennant winning has been something of a monopoly in the past, two or three clubs taking most of the honors over a long stretch of years. From 1890 to 1900, inclusive, the Boston, Brooklyn and Baltimore clubs did all the pennant winning in the National league. Baltimore won five pennants, while Boston and Brooklyn got three apiece.

From 1901 to 1913, inclusive, the Giants, Cubs and Pirates did all the winning in the National league. The giants won in 1904-5 and 1911-12-13, the Pirates in 1901-2-3 and 1909, and the Cubs winning in 1906-7-8 and 1910. The Braves broke into the charmed circle in 1914, and since that year the pennants have been moving from city to city. The St. Louis National league club is the only one of the senior major league which never has had a pennant winner.

In the American league only four of the eight cities have had pennant winners since the league was started 20 years ago. Philadelphia and Boston lead with six pennants each, Chicago has won five flags, while Detroit has accounted for the remaining three. Chicago won in 1900-1, 1906, 1917 and 1919. Philadelphia won in 1902, 1905, 1910-11, and 1913-14. Boston won in 1903-4, 1912, 1915-16 and 1918. Detroit carried off the honors in 1907-8-9. The American league pennant has never flown at the home fields of the Yankees, Senators, Browns or Indians.

MEREDITH GOES TO ANTWERP

World's Half-Mile Record Holder Has Changed His Mind About Retiring From Sport.

Ted Meredith is undoubtedly keen to make the trip to Antwerp next summer, for he has changed his mind about retiring and has begun training.

Ted Meredith.

Ted has placed himself under the care of Lawson Robertson, the Penn coach, who was much surprised at the turn of events shown by the world's half-mile record holder in his first workout. Ted has already accepted invitations to compete in several indoor meets this winter.

HIGH COST STRIKES BOWLING

Chicago Alley Owners Boost Price of Games to Twenty Cents—Increased Overhead.

Proprietors of Chicago bowling alleys have increased their price 5 cents a game, and a man now may roll the ball for 20 cents, or two for 35 cents. The nickel was added because of "increased overhead," the bowling alley owners said.

Forward Pass Makes Good.

The forward pass has come into its own. There was a time when it was often a boomerang because so many passes were intercepted; but this season some of the best teams have been bewildered and demoralized by brilliant overhead attacks.

In the recent Italian athletic championships the 20-kilometer race was won by Blas in 1 hour 9 minutes 8 seconds. Salvo won the 200 meters in 24.2 seconds and Bersoni the 800 meters in 2 minutes 12 seconds.

All of Reds Reserved.

Garry Herrmann has reserved all his championship players for the Reds of 1920, according to the list of National league reservations made public by President John Heydler.

Yank Jockey Hurt in Spain.

George Archibald, the American jockey, was seriously injured at the Castellana racetrack, near Madrid, when his mount collided with a rail.

Miss Overly Shows Up Well.

Hugh Overly, former Ohio trainer, now in Michigan, visited the late Buckeye meetings with the trotting mare, Miss Overly, 2:16, by Norman, the old Lima sire, over a number of races with the mare, which must be well along in years.

Seaton Gets One-Hit Game.

Tom Seaton, who pitched for the San Francisco team last season, showed his old-time dexterity when he held the strong Los Angeles team to one hit on June 8.

HAPPENINGS in the CITIES

Much Activity in the Interstitial Gland Business

SAN FRANCISCO.—This interstitial gland business is getting to be pretty lively out at the San Quentin prison—or else the press agent is putting something across on the editors. Here's story No. 1, as printed in the news-pers:

Deeply penitent because the dependents of Anton Schoenbus, San Francisco detective, had been robbed of his support, Floyd Lee McClure, who killed Schoenbus, today offered to auction his interstitial glands to the highest bidder as a benefit to the widow and children of Schoenbus. McClure had been told that a business man had written to doctors at San Quentin prison offering $10,000 for the youth's living interstitial glands of a murderer soon to be hanged there.

"It is not a very pleasant thought," said McClure, "and I would rather not talk about it, but I'll tell the world I'm game for the operation even if it is done before I hang."

"I would do anything to make amends for my crime—anything in the world to help the widow of Schoenbus. I wouldn't mind doing anything if I could get the $10,000. I'll be glad to undergo the operation on condition that the money goes to Mrs. Schoenbus."

McClure killed Schoenbus in San Francisco when the detective climbed on the running board of the automobile of McClure and William E. Chastain had stolen.

Here is story No. 2: While her two little daughters clung to her skirts, Mrs. Antone Lapara tearfully renounced any intention to contest for the $10,000 offered by a wealthy business man in event her husband is hanged at San Quentin prison. She tried to explain in broken English that $10,000—or a million for that matter—would not recompense her for the life of her husband.

"If I took the money," she said, "it would bring me only unhappiness. Every dollar would remind me of my husband's death on the gallows. He was a good husband. I would die at my work before I would profit by my husband's death."

Small Boy Finds New Use for Automobile Tires

DENVER.—A number of large automobile tires rolling blithely down Cheesman park hill at a high rate of speed caused a traffic blockade at Tenth and Franklin streets several afternoons last week. Passing pedestrians and motorists stood in open-mouthed amazement, looking at what appeared to be auto tires endowed with life, some rolling with perfect balance, others rolling drunkenly from side to side and at the end of the hill landing in a heap.

Upon closer observation the tires were found to be filled with small boys curled snugly in the middle of the rim and happily enjoying the surprise of the passersby.

Tire racing is the latest fad in the sport realm of the small boy, and the lad whose father owns an automobile and a number of old tires is the most popular member of his group.

The tires are hauled to the top of the hill, and in order to make the race successful, they are properly curled in the tires, with feet and hands firmly braced, the boys behind the tires, called the starters, give them a push and away they go, spinning down the two blocks of unbroken hill, ending at Tenth and Franklin.

When a fellow is hired to do up another guy he goes and tells him about it. Then they get together and they stick plaster all over the guy's face and tie a bandage around his head with a little beef blind showing through and put his arm in a sling. The guy who wants him done up looks him over and thinks he got his money's worth."

Now this is art, but is it honest? Is crime not to be depended upon to be what it seems? We know that our leather chairs are a mass of holes, but of old rubber boots and condensed milk. We know that chicken salad is made from the fat of the duck and that our seabirds are made from the fat of the duck and that our linen is cotton. Knowing, nobody cares. But it had been supposed that crime was above substitution. Here we have a detailed description of camouflage.

When things become too ingenious to kick in the ribs of the persons they are paid to assault and resort to camouflage to make the patron think he is getting something just as good, whether are we drifting?

Your Cows Yield as they Feel

For milkers are not accidents—they are usually backward because there is something wrong with their physical condition. You cannot expect such a cow to give a good milk yield until her sluggish organs have received proper medical treatment.

Kow-Kure has become the standard remedy in thousands of dairies because this famous cow medicine has great medicinal qualities that work upon and tone up the digestive and general organs, making each perform its proper function.

You can prove for yourself the merit of Kow-Kure by trying a package on one of your poor milkers, and watch results carefully. Besides being a general tonic, Kow-Kure is especially recommended for the prevention or cure of such diseases as Abortion, Bursitis, Milk Fever, Scouring, Lost Appetite, Bunches, etc.

COUNCIL MUST ACT ON PLANS FOR NEW BRIDGE

In a letter to Mayor Chas. E. Briere, from the highway commission at Madison, the commission has submitted the proposed plans for the new bridge across the Wisconsin river in this city, and has asked the mayor to take the matter up with the council.

The new plans would lengthen the bridge about thirty feet on the west side of the river, dredging and blasting out a channel there. This is necessary, the commission thinks, to permit the water to have sufficient clearance space. It is planned also to raise the grade of the street a trifle at each end of the bridge.

One of the matters which was of considerable importance in regard to the west side channel was the matter of what would be done about the Mackinon building, which would have to be removed. When the matter was taken up with Geo. W. Mead in regard to what the Consolidated would do about this, Mr. Mead stated that it was to come down eventually anyway, and if it was necessary to take it down to make this channel for the water the Consolidated would be glad to do so.

The present plans for the bridge include a seven span concrete structure, six spans in the water, the length of the spans varying from 63 to 71 feet. Between abutments the bridge would be 491 feet in length. The type of arch has been changed from the spandril to the barrel type arch.

Speaker's Sore Throat. "Clergyman's sore throat" is, according to Dr. John J. ### MINNESOTA RESIDENT CALLS.

$4 GOOD PRICE FOR WOOD

Sarsell, Minn., Dec. 24, 1919 To the Grand Rapids Tribune:

In answer to that article that Mr. Cramer wrote for the Tribune some weeks ago. You saw you cannot see the joke. Well there is no joke in it. $4 a cord is not a fair price, but a good price and a farmer can make $6.00 a day on that; even if he has to haul it 10 miles. It was stated by Mr. Cramer that it would take two men all day to cut two cords of wood. My opinion of those men is that they should have died by the roadside, as in my opinion they are mighty poor men. Any man who is used to cutting wood should be able to cut from two and one-half to three cords a day, and should not have to sweat any to do it. I am not one of those guys who are setting in an easy chair. I have handled an ax for the past 12 or 15 years myself. There are men who are cutting as high as four and a half cords a day and they don't think anything of it. Most of the wood cutters cut by the cord and not by the day, getting $2 a cord for cutting it. That leaves Mr. Farmer $4 for hauling it and he can easily haul a cord and a half at a load if the roads are fair. Of course there are men that will cut by the day and they have a cord or so cut they will sit down and think it over, but it is not the kind of men to hire.

Stop and think, Mr. Farmer, only a few years ago when you sold your wood at $3 and $3.50 a cord and it had to be all body wood, and then you had a half cord or so cut they would all day trying to sell his load, and lots of times he would leave it there or sell it a dollar cheaper, and other produce was much the same. Eggs 10c a dozen, now 60c; butter 15c and 18c now 65c and 70c; potatoes 3c and 4c now 15c and 18c and $1.50; Hay $9 and $10 now $18 and $20; wheat 40c and 50c now $2.25, and still you are kicking. Now to get back to the wood again. When a farmer gets an acre of wood cut, the next year he will use the land for pasture and a few years later will be raising pigs on it, and the increase on that one acre in value will buy four more. A man does not cut his timber to get $4 of it. He wants the land cleared up so that it can be used and will bring more in case he wants to sell.

I am with the fuel administrator. He is right and I hope you will find it out some day. So please for those men that are only cutting a cord a day and get some to cut by the cord and see if you won't do better. I am sorry I can't shake hands with you, but you will have to excuse me. I am out in the Minnesota woods now, and while I am only a common man I can cut my three cords of 4 foot wood a day easy, and don't have to sweat any either. I spent 25 years of my life in Grand Rapids and I have not heard a thing like this before. I guess this will be enough for this time. Yours truly,

Emil A. Hahn.

P. S. $4 00 is not a fair price for a cord of wood, but a GOOD price.

MAYOR SPOKE ON STRIKE TO NEKOOSA UNION MEN

Complimenting them on the way they had held together on the strike, telling them that they were in the right in their action, and that the Nekeosa-Edwards Paper company could not successfully operate with the present system, Mayor Chas. E. Briere addressed a large crowd of the strikers at Stevens hall at Nekeosa Sunday evening. The mayor discussed the situation from several angles, commended the men on their united support during the strike, and traced the development of the strike to the present time. Mr. Briere was confident of adjustment of the differences satisfactory to the strikers.

R. C. Knutson, a member of the executive board of the state federation of labor, spoke of the national labor topics, discussed the steel strike, the coal strike and other topics of national interest. Mr. Knutson told how the steel strike had sifted down to a battle between labor and capital. He complimented the Nekeosa and Port Edwards strikers on holding out together in their strike and predicted success for them.

Atty. A. J. Crowns of Nekeosa gave a short talk on the situation down there, expressing his certainty of victory, and commending the men on their support of the strike. Chas. Sample, a union organizer, introduced the speakers, Joe Norton and Edw. Lipke, both officers of the Central Labor Union, of this city, spoke a few words on the situation.

The Lutheran band of this city had been engaged to furnish music and were credited with having rendered several pleasing numbers.

HAD CHRISTMAS TREE AT POOR FARM FOR INMATES

A Christmas tree, presents, nuts and candy, all combined with a merry Christmas spirit, made things take on a rosy aspect for fifteen inmates of the poor farm Christmas day. An attractive Christmas tree had been decorated for the fifteen inmates on Christmas eve, and with a regular home Christmas the eve and day were made pleasant ones for the aged people. Each one was given a gift and the pleasure that they exhibited in being remembered was stated to be well worth seeing. A special chicken and goose dinner which Mrs. Case had prepared for the inmates added materially to making the day a pleasant and memorable one.

Sheriff Cliff Bluet did not forget his four boarders Christmas day, having served them a special dinner and made the day as pleasant as possible for the men confined. The sheriff secured a quantity of candy and nuts for the men and along with the special Christmas dinner things took on a little brighter aspect than they might otherwise.

Your Cows Yield as they Feel

Poor milkers are not accidents—they are usually backward because there is something wrong with their physical condition. You cannot expect such a cow to give a good milk yield until her sluggish organs have received proper medical treatment.

Kow-Kure has become the standard remedy in thousands of dairies because this famous cow medicine has great medicinal qualities that work upon and tone up the digestive and genital organs, making each perform its proper function. You can prove for yourself the merit of Kow-Kure by trying a package on one of your poor milkers, and watch results carefully. Besides being a general tonic, Kow-Kure is especially recommended for the prevention or cure of such diseases as Abortion, Brucellosis, Milk Fever, Scouring, Lost Appetite, Bunches, etc.

COUNCIL MUST ACT ON PLANS FOR NEW BRIDGE

In a letter to Mayor Chas. E. Briere, from the highway commission at Madison, the commission has submitted the proposed plans for the new bridge across the Wisconsin river in this city, and has asked the mayor to take the matter up with the council.

The new plans would lengthen the bridge about thirty feet on the west side of the river, dredging and blasting out a channel there. This is necessary, the commission thinks, to permit the water to have sufficient passage so that it is planned also to raise the grade of the street a trifle at each end of the bridge.

One of the matters which was of considerable importance in regard to the west side channel was the matter of what would be done about the Mackinnon building, which would have to be removed. When the matter was taken up with Geo. W. Spaulding, who is in charge of the consolidated bridge work, he said that it was to come down eventually anyway, and if it was necessary to take it down to make this channel for the water the Consolidated bridge would be glad to do so.

The present plans for the bridge include a seven span concrete structure, six spans in the water, the length of the spans varying from 65 to 71 feet. Between abutments the bridge would be 491 feet in length. The type of arch has been changed from the spandril to the barrel type arch.

Speaker's Sore Throat. "Clergyman's sore throat" is, according to Dr. John J. ## MINNESOTA RESIDENT CALLS $6 GOOD PRICE FOR WOOD

Sartell, Minn., Dec. 24, 1919 To the Grand Rapids Tribune:

In answer to that article that Mr. Cramer wrote for the Tribune some weeks ago. You saw you cannot see the joke. Well there is no joke in it. $6 a cord is not a fair price, but a good price and a farmer can make $6.00 a day out of it; even if he has to haul it 10 miles. It was stated by Mr. Cramer that it would take two men all day to cut two cords of wood. My opinion of those men is that they should have died by the roadside, as they ought to be the mightiest poor men. Any man who is used to cutting wood should be able to cut from two and one-half to three cords a day, and should not have to sweat any to do it. I am not one of those boys who are setting in an easy chair. I have handled an ax for the past 12 or 15 years myself. There are men who are cutting as high as four and a half cords a day and they don't think anything of it. Most of the wood cutters cut by the cord and not by the day, getting $2 a cord for cutting it. That leaves Mr. Farmer $4 for hauling it and he can easily haul a cord and a half at a load if the roads are fair. Of course there are men that will cut by the day and after they have a cord or so cut they will sit down and think it over, but this is the kind of men to hire. A few years ago when you sold your wood at $3 and $3.50 a cord and it had to be all body wood. Time and time again a farmer would be put down some day trying to sell his load, and lots of times he would leave it there or sell it a dollar cheaper, and other produce was much the same. Eggs 10c a dozen, now 50c; butter 15c and 18c now; and 70c potatoes 10c a bushel, now $1.25 and $1.50; Hay $3 and $10 now $18 and $20; wheat 40c and 50c now $2.25, and still you are kicking. Now to get back to the wood again. When a farmer gets a cord of wood, the next year he will use the land for pasture and a few years later will be raising crops on it, and the increase on that one acre in value will buy four more. A man doesn't want to get a cord of wood, he wants the land cleared up so that it can be used and will bring more in case he wants to sell.

I am with the fuel administrator. He is right and I hope you will be out some day trying to sell fire those cords that are only cutting a cord a day and get some to cut by the cord and see if you won't do better. I am sorry I can't shake hands with you, but you will have to excuse me. I have not heard a thing like this before. I guess this will be enough for this time. Yours truly,

Emil A. Hahn.

P. S. $6.00 is not a fair price for a cord of wood, but a GOOD price.

MAYOR SPOKE ON STRIKE TO NEKEOSHA UNION MEN

Complimenting them on the way they had held together on the strike, telling them that they were in the right in their action, and that the Nekeosha-Edwards Paper company could not successfully operate with the present system, Mayor Chas. E. Briere addressed a large crowd of the strikers at Stevens hall at Nekeosha Sunday evening. The mayor discussed the situation from several angles, commended the men on their united support during the strike, and traced the development of the strike to the present time. Mr. Briere was confident of adjustment of the differences satisfactory to the strikers.

R. C. Knutson, a member of the executive board of the state federation of labor, spoke of the national labor topics, discussed the steel strike, the coal strike and other topics of national interest. Mr. Knutson told how the steel strike had slid down to a battle between labor and capital. He complimented the Nekeosha and Port Edwards strikers on holding out together in their strike and predicted success for them.

Atty. A. J. Crowns of Nekeosha gave a short talk on the situation down there, expressing his certainty of victory, and commending the men on their support of the strike. Chas. Sample, a union organizer, introduced the speakers. Joe Norton and Edw. Lipke, both officers of the Central Labor Union, of this city, spoke a few words on the situation.

The Lutheran band of this city had been engaged to furnish music and were credited with having rendered several pleasing numbers.

Later he settled down on some of the good land of Sigel and has resided there ever since. He was a man well known and respected by a large circle of friends throughout the county, and his passing will bring sorrow to many of his friends.

HAD CHRISTMAS TREE AT POOR FARM FOR INMATES

A Christmas tree, presents, nuts and candy, all combined with a merry Christmas spirit, made things take on a rozier aspect for fifteen inmates of the poor farm Christmas day. An attractive Christmas tree had been decorated for the fifteen boarders on Christmas eve, and with a regular home Christmas the inmates and day were made pleasant ones for the aged people. Each one was given a gift and the pleasure that they exhibited in being remembered was stated to be well worth seeing.

A special chicken and goose dinner which Mrs. Case had prepared for the inmates added materially to making the day a pleasant and memorable one.

Sheriff Cliff Bluet did not forget his four boarders Christmas day, having served them a special dinner and made the day as pleasant as possible for the men confined. The sheriff secured a quantity of candy and nuts for the men and along with the special Christmas dinner things took on a little brighter aspect than they might otherwise.
